When they are designed and placed with judicious attention to the character of the spot, they often afford admirable embellishments to the landscape, and carry forward the seeming extent of the more polished arrangements of the pleasure grounds. PLATE VII. A BRIDGE AND BOAT HOUSE. THIS design is intended as a means of approaching an island situated on a lake at the extremity of an estate, answering the double purpose of a bridge and boat house, and also a shelter from rain. The platform is inclosed by a parapet railing on one side for safety, but is open on the other for the convenience of taking boat, and for landing on return. It will be seen that this building is not intended for the complete protection of the boat, even during the summer months, much less against the inclemencies of the winter season; but it is sufficient shelter from the sun and rain at its moorings during the day, when it is in readiness; and from this bridge it is easily and safely entered, as its side comes in immediate contact with the foot-path. The construction of this building is very simple, the materials of which it is composed may be of unwrought timbers: the supports being the trunks of unbarked trees, the arch of their tapered branches, and the walling of cleft logs, built in the manner of the rough walling of the Romans. The roof is of thatch,...
